The structure will be of pressed brick, surmounted by a fire proof roof. The authorities of the Nashville & Decatur Railroad deserve credit for thus recognizing the importance of Pulaski as a shipping point.

The New Bridge The work on the new bridge across Richland Creek has been ommenced and is being pushed rapidly forward under the vigorous superintendence of Messrs. Rainey & Bro., the contractors. The bridge will have two solid stone abutments and two piers. The stones will all be jointed and handsomely dressed. The floor will be of the best seasoned lumber and will be surmounted with a handsomely painted roof of the same material. The contractors expect to complete the soft-soap. work by the first of January. . The old bridge has been torn down and our friends living on the other side of the creek, who have no steed or
